

Daily Record Poll Finds Favor For Thruway Route

Seven Motor Directors Back Proposed Plan

By John F. Hill

DIRECTORS of the Pocono Mountains Motor Club were polled by The Daily Record yesterday and last night regarding one phase of the highway committee's report given at the club's annual meeting Tuesday night.

A large majority of the 14 board members contacted (all others were unavailable) were agreed they never were sounded out on their opinion of the state-recommended line for the proposed Stroudsburg Thruway.

At least seven directors said they personally favored this route (known as Line A), while three others said they preferred the Hess plan (over Godfrey's Ridge) and one said he felt the Citizens Bypass Committee's Line F looked best to him. One director was "not opposed" to Line A and two were non-committal.

The directors were asked whether they agreed with that part of the club's highway committee report which said:

"The majority of the board seriously questions that the route proposed by the Highway Department complies with the above."

The word "above" referred to the following statement, which was not questioned:

"Your board's position is that of urging the State Highway Department to provide limited access highway that will be adequate for present needs; that may be readily expanded or enlarged to meet the future needs of the community; that will provide a smooth rapid flow of traffic with adequate access to both boroughs; that will take scenic advantage of the area; and most important, will be at the lowest cost."

John M. Crandall, highway committee chairman, said the wording of the report was based on "informal discussions" with board members in and out of their meetings.

"I question whether this route complies with the demands for a limited-access highway," he said. Personally, he added, he favors the Godfrey's Ridge route.

Crandall, who has been a leader in the fight against Line A, insisted he had been misquoted in yesterday's story dealing with his report. He contended that part of the article and headline which used the word "opposed" in reference to the recommended line was incorrect.

But most of the other directors felt in using the term "seriously questions," Crandall was speaking for a minority of the board, rather than the majority.

Said Frank S. LaBar: "I'm in favor of the proposal which will do us the most good. I subscribe to the view that if we mess with the state and engineering experts, we are playing with dynamite, and are likely to get nothing. Line A goes through our (nursery) property, but we're not going to stay in the way of the state's recommendations."

Walter Fossa said: "Line A sounds like the best plan to me. I support the proposal that will make it easier for motorists to slip into and out of the Poconos, the one which is most convenient for the traveling public."

George Shick: "I like Line A best, but I do not think the board of directors should speak for all 3,000 members of the motor club."

Russell Eshback: "Something must be done about the Stroudsburg traffic problem." He added his support for Line A.

Amzi Altomose said he thought the matter should be left to engineers employed by the State Highway Department. "I think we should see the plans before deciding as a club. I am not opposed to Line A or in favor of any other line."

Van D. Yetter Jr., Henry Kresge and Harry A. Ahnert Jr., all said they had backed the Line A route since it was first recommended by the state and later by independent (Please Turn to Page 5)

Duff Withdraws As Beck Counsel

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Former Sen. James H. Duff, said to-night his law firm "has withdrawn" as counsel for Teamsters Union President Dave Beck.

Duff's associate in the firm, Arthur D. Condon, however, told a reporter it was not a case of "withdrawal" but that "the work Sen. Duff undertook for Beck has been completed. We are not going to be with Beck in any future hearing."

Forest Fire Burns 100 Acres

MARSHALLS CREEK — High winds hampered volunteer firefighters last night as they worked feverishly to control a woods fire which had burned over close to 100 acres of land by 11 p.m.

District Forester Clyde Pyle reported that the blaze started along a dirt road near the Luther VanWhy farm. It was centered north of Big Bushkill Creek between Resica Falls and Winona Five Falls.

The fire was spotted at 4:30 p.m. by Harold T. Hamlen, proprietor of Hamlen's Flying Service, as he was flying over the area.

Immediately after Hamlen notified firemen, volunteers from Bushkill and Marshalls Creek joined personnel of the Department of Forest and Waters and the fire warden's crews in trying to backfire the blaze.

Communists Attempt To Put New Life In Annual May Day Military Parade In Moscow

By The Associated Press

COMMUNISTS ATTEMPTED to liven their customary May Day rallies and military parades Wednesday with a little glamorizing and sex interest.

Pretty girls in red bathing suits did a tableaux of waving flowers on a float in Moscow's traditional Red Square parade. Other athletic misses played imitation games of basketball and volleyball.

Many-colored flags, balloons and maypoles were borne by the regimented crowd that filled a Budapest square to hear Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar attack "imperialists" and "counterrevolutionaries."

These lighter touches, which in previous years would have been considered signs of Western "decadence," could have been concessions to peoples weary of perpetual earnest ideology and grim military show.

One Riot

Only one riot marked the day. Naples police battled a crowd of 20,000 for an hour when Communists started an anti-American demonstration and began throwing bottles and stones. Forty policemen were injured. There were no figures on the number of demonstrators hit over the head with truncheons. Many were arrested.

As usual, Moscow, the capital of communism, put on the biggest and the gaudiest display—a mixture of military might, blunt talk and chants of "peace."

From the usual vantage point on the Lenin-Stalin tomb, Premier Bulganin, party boss Khrushchev and other top-ranking officials viewed a parade of heavy artillery tanks and infantry. Overhead 178 four-jet bombers and swept-wing fighters skimmed low over the Kremlin's turrets. Self-propelled guns intended for air transport by paratroops seemed newly designed.

Defense

Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov, his chest blazing with medals, made the chief speech. He declared "imperialists" were trying to split Arab and Socialist countries into separate camps, and that the United States was attempting to "locate atomic units in the territory of other countries."

He asserted Soviet forces had the moral strength and equipment to "root any aggressor."

Pope Pius XII in an address to 30,000 workers in Vatican City, stressed that the Gospel "is the most efficient yeast for social justice." The Roman Catholic Church observes the feast of St. Joseph, the Worker, on May 1.

In much of Western Europe May Day was more a holiday than an occasion for mass rallies and parades. Paris' boulevards were almost deserted. Flower sellers offered to tourists bouquets of lilies of the valley, said to be omens of good luck on May Day.

Injuries Prove Fatal

HAGERSTOWN, Md., May 1 (AP)—Injuries suffered Sunday in an automobile accident today claimed the life of Miss Maud Eva Rice, 50, director of personnel at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington.

Beck Ordered To Appear Before Probe

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Dave Beck, besieged boss of the Teamsters Union, today was directed to appear before the Senate Rackets Committee next Wednesday for further interrogation.

The committee said it has "further derogatory evidence" to present concerning Beck's alleged "use of the power of the union to further his own financial interest."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said he expected to call eight or ten other witnesses.

"It is very important that any information the committee has regarding Mr. Beck's misuse of union funds, or misuse of his position as president of the largest union in the United States, should be developed publicly," McClellan stated.

Beck faces an AFL-CIO Executive Council trial May 20 on charges that he has brought the labor movement into disrepute.

He announced today the Teamsters Union Executive Board will appear in a body before an AFL-CIO disciplinary group Monday to demand a bill of particulars on charges that corrupt elements dominate the organization.

Until now it had been uncertain whether any representative of the giant union would show up for the hearing. Monday's meeting will be an important step in proceedings which could lead to ouster of the Teamsters from the AFL-CIO unless they change their course and leadership.

Beck notified Al Hayes, chairman of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee, that the full membership of the Executive Board would appear before the committee "to determine if our rights" will be accorded recognition.

Beck told Hayes the decision had been reached with misgivings. He repeated the complaint that his union has not been given any detailed charges.

Broadly, the union is accused of being substantially dominated by corrupt influences. The Senate Rackets Committee recently heard evidence linking some union leaders with the underworld in the Pacific Northwest. There has also been testimony of alleged bribery and violence.

Beck was suspended as an AFL-CIO vice president after he invoked the Fifth Amendment 117 times before the Senate committee. He was accused by the committee of having used $320,000 of union funds for his own purposes. While he refused to testify regarding this, Beck has told reporters the money was a loan which he paid back.

Misuse

As a deterrent to the misuse of funds by labor unions and business organizations, Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) proposed today that Congress deny tax exemptions to organizations found guilty of such practices.

The senator is a former president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

In another labor development today, chairman Barden (D-NC) of the House Labor Committee accused Secretary of Labor Mitchell of keeping the lid on union financial reports filed with the government.

The Labor Department disagreed. In a statement replying to Barden it said it does not now have the authority to make public the reports.

Los Angeles, May 1 (AP)—Grant Mitchell, 82, character actor in scores of stage plays and movies, died today at a sanatorium.

Born in Columbus, Ohio, Mitchell attended Yale and Harvard universities, graduating as an attorney.

He told the women he would like to see, before he leaves off, an even bigger tax cut than the seven-billion-dollar one the Republicans claimed in 1954.

But, he said, the possibility of tax reduction depends on peaceful developments in the world.

"Let's not throw away one of the engines of the ship of state," he said with reference to the foreign aid program.

A sacrifice now of money to forward the cause of peace, he said, will not "look nearly so great as the sacrifices of our sons on the battlefield."

In obvious reference to the cost of national defense against international communism, Eisenhower said: "as long as there is abroad a predatory force seeking to destroy our form of government, we are going to remain strong."

NATO Chief Announces Nuclear Plans

BONN, Germany, May 1 (AP)—The civilian chief of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization said today its military planners soon will advise the 15 member nations to equip their forces with nuclear arms.

Burgin's Lord Ismay, who quits his post as secretary general May 14, emphasized at a news conference that no member will be forced to accept this advice.

But it would be "a very dangerous event," he warned, if any important NATO power refused nuclear equipment for its air, land and sea forces.

"Our alliance in terms of sheer numbers could never successfully oppose those of the Soviet Union without the use of nuclear weapons," Ismay said.

Previewing Tasks

The secretary general was previewing the tasks facing the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers, which begins tomorrow a three-day exchange of views on world affairs with special emphasis on Russia's threats and possible thrusts in Europe and the Middle East.

Ismay's statement was taken as having a special meaning for the government of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Heinrich von Brentano, declared only two days ago West Germany has no intention of arming itself with nuclear weapons for a long time to come. A Russian note had warned that this country would risk becoming a veritable graveyard if it accepted them.

Secretary of State Dulles, arriving in Bonn aboard a U. S. Air Force plane from Washington, said the foreign ministers "will seek to assure to our peoples the blessings of justice and of peace."

The secretary hurried from the airport for a conference with Adenauer and Von Brentano on the very issues which formed the subject of Ismay's statement and the Kremlin's warning last weekend.

Statement

The 62-year-old, slightly built secretary appeared tired and nervous as he fought back tears during the 15 minutes the lawmakers took in praising his work, character and public service.

The joint committee statement said Mrs. Ruby Werner Costello of Philadelphia failed to give "credible testimony" regarding a $50 payment she claimed was made to Hean in an attempt to influence a board decision on behalf of her husband.

Grant Mitchell, 82, Expires

LOS ANGELES, May 1 (AP)—Grant Mitchell, 82, character actor in scores of stage plays and movies, died today at a sanatorium.

Born in Columbus, Ohio, Mitchell attended Yale and Harvard universities, graduating as an attorney.

He told the women he would like to see, before he leaves off, an even bigger tax cut than the seven-billion-dollar one the Republicans claimed in 1954.

But, he said, the possibility of tax reduction depends on peaceful developments in the world.

"Let's not throw away one of the engines of the ship of state," he said with reference to the foreign aid program.

A sacrifice now of money to forward the cause of peace, he said, will not "look nearly so great as the sacrifices of our sons on the battlefield."

In obvious reference to the cost of national defense against international communism, Eisenhower said: "as long as there is abroad a predatory force seeking to destroy our form of government, we are going to remain strong."

Following the session, District Engineer T. K. Rothermund of Allentown said he was hopeful that "a decision could be made in the consultant's schedule" so that plans would be ready for bids within four months.

At the outset, Rothermund made it clear that his department wants to get busy on the project as quickly as possible.

"The time has come to speak frankly," said the district engineer. "Programs are often hindered by too many meetings. And there are a hundred ways to do a thing."

"But a lot enters in," he continued. "Anytime we cross a stream, or affect a utility, another department must be consulted."

Rothermund also alluded to "those with a personal interest, who sometimes form a small, vociferous group—sometimes posing as a great public benefactor."

This said, the district engineer revealed that his department wants to take a long-range viewpoint and construct a new interborough bridge which would be adequate for years to come.

"You need four lanes on a busy Saturday now," he noted.

"We're willing to go to bat for you with the Bureau of Roads," he continued, "but, having won the argument, we don't want to come back and find disagreement."

Rothermund promised that borough officials can count on the state working out satisfactory traffic routes, provided the Stroudsburgs cooperate with his department.

"We want to know we can get the cooperation of the boroughs regarding rights-of-way," he said.

Rothermund and Assistant District Engineer Edwin Greenwald, made it clear the state would not consider building a four-lane bridge unless four-lane approaches were provided at both ends.

"You wouldn't expect the boroughs to finance these approaches," quizzed East Stroudsburg Burgess Jesse S. Flory.

Journe Engineer Hess was informed that a minimum of 48 feet would be needed to provide four 11-foot lanes, without parking facilities on Main St. He estimated that perhaps 40 feet could be provided by eliminating a portion of the sidewalk.

To this, Assistant District Engineer Ted Henderson suggested the possibility of having three-lanes on Main St., two for eastbound traffic, and one for westbound. The rest of the westbound traffic, he indicated, could be routed over Sarah St.

However, it was emphasized that details on any traffic routing would have to be postponed until planning reached a more advanced stage.

Horse Race Bill In Jeopardy

HARRISBURG, May 1 (AP)—A Senate-passed plan to hold a state-wide referendum on betting at horse race tracks in Pennsylvania hit what may be a dead end in the House today.

Chairman Naugle (R-Somerset) of the House Law and Order Committee said there would be "no hurry" to act on the measure opposed by Gov. Leader in a last-minute move yesterday.

Explosion

The plane plummeted to earth after exploding high above this English airfield in the flat countryside about 30 miles from London. Seconds before the crash it appeared by radio for permission to land.

It circled the field once, then one engine cut out and there was an explosion, airport officials said.

Byrd Urges Deep Cuts In Budget

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va) recommended today that the Eisenhower administration get a new budget director and cut its spending by eight to nine billion dollars next year.

Byrd, the economy-minded chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, denounced the "squandering" of public money in a speech before the 45th annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. He was warmly applauded.

Afterward Byrd told newsmen he was not calling for the resignation of Budget Director Percival F. Brundage—"that's up to the President." But he added: "I think Mr. Brundage has made a failure of his present budget."

Plans

The budget calls for the spending of $11,600,000,000 in the 1958 fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957. It is under attack along a wide front. The Chamber is calling for cuts in excess of four billion dollars and yesterday Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader of the Senate, forecast reductions of more than three billion.

Byrd's eight to nine-billion dollar slash was the biggest proposed so far, but the Virginian conceded he doesn't expect all of it within the next fiscal year.

Brundage, who has directed the budget bureau for 13 months, declined comment.

Three-Month Pardon Board Probe Ends

HARRISBURG, May 1 (AP)—A three-month probe of the state Pardon Board ended today with six investigating lawmakers denouncing Secretary Frank Hean. They said he suffered an unjust attack on his integrity.

The committee members joined in a formal statement and then offered individual comment on what they termed "character damage" inflicted on Hean through statements of a Philadelphia woman, who refused to testify at a public hearing.

Floor Battles

On only two of these—aid to depressed areas and public housing—did real floor battles develop. The Greater Providence (R.I.) Chamber of Commerce favored Eisenhower's plan to help areas of chronic joblessness, and Chicago's Assn. of Commerce and Industry plugged for "minimum" federal outlays for public housing.

The Providence and Chicago spokesmen were swamped in the evident determination of the 700 voting delegates to curb government intervention in the country's economic life and to spike new spending plans.

31 Killed In Crash

BLACKBUSH, England, May 1 (AP)—A British military transport plane headed for North Africa crashed in flames here tonight soon after taking off. Thirty-one persons were killed.

The twin-engined Viking plane was carrying servicemen and their families to Libya.

Officials said the 35 persons aboard included one woman and two children.

Explosion

The plane plummeted to earth after exploding high above this English airfield in the flat countryside about 30 miles from London. Seconds before the crash it appeared by radio for permission to land.

It circled the field once, then one engine cut out and there was an explosion, airport officials said.

Viewing the Screens Committee

RUMOR HAS IT that "Wide Wide World" will be getting the axe next year, but the producer says they will be back next season with the same set of backers they now have. . . . A program of the best in recordings—"The Big Record"—may replace Arthur Godfrey's Wednesday night show next season. . . . When Tommy Sands did his first television show a couple months ago, he came to New York an unknown, but when he returns May 8 for his second show on the same program, he will be accompanied by five agents.

"Andy's Gang," with Andy Devine, is coming back to NBC Saturday mornings in the fall. . . . Groucho Marx may do "Trial By Jury" next fall, with Frank Sinatra and possibly Ethel Merman in leading roles. . . . Evelyn Rudie will star May 19 on an "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" thriller. . . . Bernadette O'Farrell has quit her role as Maid Marian in the Robin Hood series because of money matters. . . . CBS will ring down the curtain on its 26-part "Air Power" series this Sunday, with "New Doctrine," a dramatic story of the atom-hydrogen bomb era.

For the third year in a row, photographer Bob Collins comes out second best in a photography contest, even though it is his own portrait shot that takes first prize on "The Bob Cummings Show" tonight at 8 on Ch. 2 and 10. . . . The incredible story of a country doctor who is suspected in the death of the patients who idolize him is told in "Strange Deaths at Burnleigh" on "Climax" at 8:30 p.m. on Ch. 2 and 10, starring Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Michael Rennie and Joan Tetzel.

Danny Williams tries to take the part of both parents to his motherless children when Rusty complains that all the other Cubs in his pack are represented at meetings, in "Den Mother" on "The Danny Thomas Show" at 9 p.m. on Ch. 6 and 7. . . . Following at 9:30 p.m. on the same two channels, "Bold Journey" presents "Race to Tahiti" the true travels of Dr. Howard Murphy and crew of college men who sail the yawl "Quest" for 30 exciting days in a yachting race with four other boats.

Joseph Cotten will show he has a sense of humor, by spoofing his own TV show "On Trial" on the "Tennessee Ernie Ford Show" at 9:30 p.m. on Ch. 3 and 4. . . . "Child of Trouble" will be the "Playhouse 99" presentation at 9:30 p.m. on Ch. 2 and 10, with Patty McCormack, Ricardo Montalban, Joan Blondell, Lillian Roth, Chester Morris and Richard Arlen. This is the true story of Toby Green, a brave young girl who walked into a prison riot to plead with her prisoner-father to surrender to the authorities.

Ann Sheridan will star in "The Hard Way" on Video Theatre at 10 p.m. on Ch. 3 and 4, the story of a ruthless, domineering woman who tries to mold her sister's life. . . . The true story of England's Earl of Suffolk, "Wild Jack" Howard, who kept millions of dollars worth of diamonds from falling into the hands of the Germans during World War II, became London's bomb disposal expert during the Blitz, and died dismantling a bomb in the heart of the city, will be told on "Telephone Time" at 10 p.m. on Ch. 6 and 7.

Grange Makes Plans For Open House

STROUVILLE—Cherry Valley Grange 1821, meeting at the hall on Tuesday, made plans to attend the open house at Mount Prospect Grange in Matamoras on Monday, May 20.

A bus will be chartered to make the trip and anyone wishing to go should contact Richard Seidof, master.

At the same time tentative plans were made for the visit of Greeley Grange to Cherry Valley on June 27.

Until further notice only one meeting a month, on the last Thursday, will be held. An exception is May when the meeting will be on the 23rd instead of Memorial Day.

Decision

It was decided to accept the proposal of the secretary of the Youth Committee of Central Valley Grange, Lehigh Valley, to present a program for the local grange. This will probably be in July.

Seidof reported that pins given with awards at the commencement at Stroud Union High have been ordered. Volunteers were accepted for painting the furniture of the hall. Mrs. Greenmoyer was installed as Flora.

Wilbur Frisbie, vocational agricultural supervisor, showed wild life movies. Mrs. Phillip Pittman accompanied the singing as part of the literary program.

A buffet supper was served following movies.

HOW PLYMOUTH'S BIG ECONOMY WIN AFFECTS YOU!

If you're an average driver, you wouldn't have had a chance in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. It takes seasoned professionals to win in this kind of competition.

Every car of every make entered in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run was a new 1957 stock model. Every car was carefully tuned for the Run and the cars were piloted by real experts in this exacting kind of driving. Naturally, the mileage they got is higher than the figure you can expect.

The way this race—and all previous Mobilgas Economy Runs—was judged is another area that should interest you:

Cars of different weights and engine displacements cannot compete on an equal basis. Such a competition would produce misleading miles-per-gallon figures. If miles-per-gallon were the only consideration, a motor bike could run away with first place. Obviously, other factors must be considered.

In order to give all cars a fair chance, the engineers used ton-miles-per-gallon as their yardstick—and as a basis for the official Mobilgas Economy Run prizes. This establishes a definite relationship between gasoline consumed, distance traveled, and weight carried. It is the only measure of gasoline economy that has any real significance to the engineers—or to you as an average motorist.

Now look at the results of the Run with the above thoughts in mind: Plymouth swept its field—First Place winner in "Class A," the division that included all the well-known low-price cars. As certified by the United States Automobile Club, Plymouth's official ton-miles-per-gallon led the entire "Class A" field.

Bear in mind, too, that Plymouth's winning mark was set using a V-8 engine with TorqueFlite automatic transmission. Several of the losing cars in Plymouth's division used 6-cylinder engines—supposedly more economical. But Plymouth beat every car in sight, 6's and V-8's alike.

But here's what Plymouth's victory does mean to you: The Plymouth you buy at your Plymouth dealer's is the same, engine for engine, part for part, as the Plymouth that won the Mobilgas Economy Run.

The superior engineering that enabled Plymouth to run away with first place is built into every Plymouth. And that means you can expect economy that will save you real money in ordinary driving.

So before you invest a dime in any automobile, it's to your advantage to compare all three low-price cars. Compare them for economy... for beauty... for riding and handling ease... for performance. Then make your decision.

Only Plymouth dares to make so bold a challenge, because only Plymouth, of the low-price 3, has so many three-years-ahead features, yet leads its field in day-in, day-out economy.

Prove it to yourself. Your Plymouth dealer will be glad to give you a guest drive at your convenience.

Former Buck Hill Resident Honored By Army District

ANNVILLE, Pa.—Lt. Col. William C. Rowland, former resident of Philadelphia and Buck Hill Falls, recently received a Commendation Ribbon with Medal Pendant from Brig. Gen. A. W. Stuart, chief of the U. S. Army Military District of Pennsylvania.

Lt. Col. Rowland was cited for meritorious service during his tour of duty as S3 of the District at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation. He served in that capacity from July 22, 1954 to the present time. The citation accompanying the Certificate quoted in part reads: "Col. Rowland's devotion to duty and exemplary conduct contributed substantially to the successful operation of the United States Military District, Pennsylvania, reflecting credit upon himself and the military service."

Col. Rowland's Army assignments include service in Berlin as Executive Officer, Political Affairs Division, Office of the Military Government, Germany, U. S. Element; G5 Military Government Executive, Headquarters 3d Army, Germany, Deputy Executive, Civil Affairs Division, Headquarters European Command, Executive Officer, 1st Constabulary Brigade, Chief, Military Personnel Division, Headquarters 7th Army and Commanding Officer, Berchtesgaden, Germany. He served at the Berchtesgaden Post prior to his assignment at Indiantown Gap. He has been in active service for 31 years.

Subscription TV Deserves Test Run

We were sitting at home late the other night watching a television showing of one of the top movies of the World War Two era. It was a movie we had missed when it appeared in the theaters, so we welcomed the opportunity to witness it on TV.

We waited patiently for the station to wade through its commercials and finally the long-awaited moment arrived. We nestled back in an easy chair, watched about 10 minutes of the film and three more commercials.

Another 10 or 15 minutes of the movie and two more commercials. And so it went until, at last, the final installment of the movie.

Even though the film had been cut in parts, it still ran nearly three hours in length. That meant it was nearly 3 a.m. before we got to bed.

We realize, of course, that advertising made it possible for us to see the film we had missed years ago, but we resolved then and there never again to sit through another session such as that. The interruptions for commercials were so frequent that we soon became irritated at the sponsors as well as the station and began wondering whether other people were similarly annoyed.

If so, perhaps subscription or toll TV would meet with more popular approval than we ever thought possible. This system calls for viewers to deposit a coin or coins in a gadget connected with their set which, in turn, would unscramble a scrambled television signal broadcast by a subscription TV station.

With tolls substituting for advertising as the means of raising revenue, backers of the new system believe the showing of non-interrupted programs would have a public appeal unmatched by stations and networks that depend upon advertising. They also claim they could telecast programs not practical under the present system.

The Federal Communications Commission is reported to look with favor on allowing experimental tests of toll TV. As one who is fed up with the deluge of commercials, some too long, asinine and even downright insulting to the intelligence of a high school pupil, we hope the FCC gives the go-ahead to the subscription system on a test basis. Then all of us can judge which we like better.

Medical - Surgical Coverage Defense Against Disaster

More and more frequently we hear people talk about the costliness of illness.

They are thinking, of course, about hospitalization, private duty nursing, surgical attention, special drugs. They doubtless have in mind instances known to them where protracted illnesses have caused expense running into many hundreds of dollars.

It is true enough that a long illness could plunge the ordinary person into a debt so deep it would require years to pay off.

But what is not so generally known is the fact that millions of Americans have anticipated this possibility and are protecting themselves against disaster. They have enrolled in voluntary health insurance on a gigantic scale.

Figures recently submitted to a committee of the House of Representatives prove this point.

In the last 15 years, health insurance has expanded so greatly that there are now 110 million people out of the nation's total population of 170 million who carry hospital coverage. There are 94 million with surgical insurance; 58 million with general medical expense protection.

The importance of this to the individuals and families concerned is manifest—adequate medical coverage is in many instances the sole defense against disaster if serious illness strikes.

It has another importance, too. It proves that we in America can erect powerful defenses against the economic hazards of illness without undermining our system of free medicine.

George Sokolsky Says...

Enemy Property Probers Should Determine Extent Of German Holdings In U. S. Plants

Whenever enemy property is seized, it leads to something of a scandal because a new vested interest is established in bargain-counter ownership. However, wars do disclose how much of the United States is foreign-owned, and who the owners are.

It would appear that Hermann J. Abs, who is president of the Society to Promote the Protection of Private Investments of Cologne, objects to the fact that the property of thousands of private persons is still being withheld from them twelve years after the end of the war. In a word, he regards the seizure of enemy alien property during the war years as a temporary measure to be corrected as soon as the war is over.

Unfortunately during a modern war, there are no private persons. Modern wars are all-inclusive and Germany played a principal role in making war total. Therefore Abs' argument, while raising certain humane criteria, comes with poor grace, even from a West German.

When German property, held in the United States during the past two wars, was seized and some of it sold to American citizens over the bargain counter as enemy alien property, it was a justifiable act of war and there can be no reason why Americans should concern themselves too much about it.

History is continuous and therefore Germany cannot reject altogether responsibility for what was done when Hitler ruled the country. It was not the German people who overthrew Hitler; it was the Allied armies and American production.

But Egypt was not at war with any country nor was any country at war with Egypt except Israel. Egypt maintains a state of belligerency with Israel; Israel would like to hold a peace conference with Egypt. Beyond that no state of war existed or exists. Therefore, Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal was an act of theft which in the parlance of international relations might be called confiscation but is never justified without due process. Such due process exists in the World Court at The Hague.

Nasser's seizure of Greek, Italian and other businesses in Cairo, some of them existing there for centuries, or at least, generations, cannot be justified on any grounds, except the brutal Bolshevik doctrine that a revolution justifies all its acts by the flexible law of necessity. In a word, revolution postpones all moral considerations. It is the same law that guided Hitler and that still holds in East Germany.

War, however, often discloses that the enemy has infiltrated the economy of a nation with the object of weakening it in advance of actual conflict. Such an infiltration is taking place in the United States at the present time at such an acceleration that all the agencies of American government find themselves frustrated by it.

It could be that analysis would show that a concerted effort of Europeans is being made so to invade the ownership of the American economy that we shall be paying for a war aimed at our destruction. Such a suicidal act is intolerable.

Those Congressional committees now investigating these activities and Louis Lefkowitz, attorney general of New York State, who has brought cases involving two Swiss banks into the courts, may uncover not only the method of operations of this infiltration but its motivations.

Lefkowitz apparently believes that he has evidence of trans-Iron Curtain activity. Abs, of course, is a special pleader who came to this country in 1935 to see whether he could not handle this situation favorably for West Germany. He has one solid argument for his case, and that one is apparently not being used.

His argument could be that as we are pouring so much money into West Germany, we may save ourselves something, if we settled some of these problems. But usually Europeans, seeking American financial aid, employ only the minus, never the plus, sign. It might be of advantage to discover how much Germany, West or East, has invested in American industrial enterprises since 1945. Such investments would come through Swiss and Amsterdam banks.

The Once Over

The Slow Driver And The Law Connecticut has passed a law making it a crime to drive an auto too slowly. This puts in constant danger the fellow who cuts down his speed enough to read the safety-first signs. A man can lose his license for repeatedly using his auto for relaxation, comfort, a safe and scenic beauty!

We have reached a period when a driver in a powerful vehicle has to be careful not to be cautious, or anxious to PASS ANYBODY!

It seems absurd, yet it is a hard fact of life on our dizzy super-highways that a slowpoke can be a nuisance, a cause of dangerous pile-ups and an irritating influence on the police. We await the first court trial!

Prosecutor—Your honor this is a serious case. This man was arrested for taking his time at the wheel of an auto.

Judge (sternly)—Are you aware, sir, what this sort of behavior can mean to you? Guilty or not guilty?

Autoist—I'll take the Fifth Amendment which gives a man the right to refuse to state his driving habits if they tend to incriminate him in the eyes of faster and more reckless operators.

Police Witness—Yerronor, this heel was taking it easy in Sunday traffic. I got complaints. I pursued him and he was going so slow I nearly telescoped him from the rear.

Judge—Did you ask him to pull over and stop? Cop—No; he was so slow I could interview him in motion.

Judge—Did he make any explanation of this dangerous conduct?

Cop—He was very defiant and insisted he had a right to drive safely since he was in no hurry.

Judge—(Indignantly)—A scoff-law! What have you to say to these charges, prisoner?

Autoist (meekly)—I have no defense except that I read all the drive-safely proclamations issued by Presidents, governors, mayors, and auto associations.

Judge (fiercely)—Such arrogance! I daresay you are the type of autoist who turns corners cautiously and would even stop on stop-signals.

Autoist—Your honor, can't you put me in care of the probation officer on my promise to drive fifty miles an hour or better?

Judge—No. The probation officer is out of town participating in a hotrod race. Ten days in jail. And, officer, take him there fast.

Why Did She Succeed Where Others Failed?

By Anne Heywood

Survey after survey has shown that the reason many people get fired from jobs—or just don't get promoted—is hardly ever a matter of skill or ability. It's almost always a matter of personal habits or personality difficulties.

Employers will put up with skills that are not perfect if the personality and the interpersonal relationships are good. But if they are bad, all the skill in the world isn't enough.

Old Acquaintance I thought of that the other day when I ran into a girl I had known a good fifteen years ago. At the time, I was writing copy for an advertising agency and she was a new assistant in the art department.

The art director of that agency was, without any doubt, the meanest man alive. The average length of stay for an assistant in his department was about two weeks. He had tantrums. He bawled people out publicly and could intimidate the strongest man without even trying.

Brief Stay I remember thinking, when Adele joined the staff, that she'd probably last a day or two.

Imagine my surprise, then, when I met her fifteen years later and learned that she was still there. Furthermore, she was assistant art director and was making an enormous salary.

"Are you," I asked incredulously, "assistant to—uh—him?" "Oh, no," she said brightly, "he retired three years ago. He lives in the country now and is doing serious painting."

Then she pleasantly described the life of the retired monster.

Wanted To Know By this time, my curiosity got the better of me and I asked how in heaven's name she had managed to put up with him all those years—and so successful, too.

"Well," Adele said, "I was lucky. The day I arrived, I had lunch with a friend at a fancy restaurant.

"In the booth right behind us was His Nibs dining with his wife. I didn't mean to eavesdrop, but I couldn't help hearing the battle.

Shrewish Wife "That wife of his was impossible—mean and shrewish, with one of those awful voices. I felt so sorry for him that I always forgave him when he yelled at me after that. I figured he didn't really mean to, but had just been getting it so at home that he had to give it out a little at the office."

The "Monster" Was Just A Henpecked Husband

"Whenever he yelled at me," Adele concluded, "I just figured it was just a holdover from what he'd been getting. So of course we got along fine. I don't imagine anyone else in the place really understood what he had to put up with."

Perfect Skill There is an example of a perfect human relations skill!

If you're having trouble getting along with people at home, at the club or in the office, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of this newspaper, and I'll send you my pamphlet, Pointers To Better Personal Relations.

Robert S. Allen Reports...

Labor Council To Make Beck Ouster Permanent

Washington, May 1 — Dave Beck is through as a member of the AFL-CIO Executive Council. The beefy Teamster president's suspension is certain to be made permanent.

At least 22 of the 27 Council members have privately signified their intention to kick him out.

Only one of them is definitely opposed to that. But it is considered very unlikely this building trade union head will show up and vote for Beck when the Council acts on his case on May 20.

Laborite insiders also are betting Beck will ignore next Monday's session of the Ethical Practices Committee.

Under the Chairmanship of the Machinists' Albert J. Hayes, this committee has summoned Beck for interrogation. In the event he doesn't appear, the next move will be up to the Executive Council—where an overwhelming majority is all set to oust Beck for good.

There will be an ironic twist to that.

The Teamster chief will be getting the same medicine he insisted on dishing out to the International Longshoremen's Assn.

In 1954, when that racket-riddled union balked at demands to clean house, Beck clamored for its expulsion from the AFL. George Meany, AFL head, didn't want to go that far. He urged less drastic disciplinary action. But at Beck's insistence, the ILA was booted out.

Whereupon, several months later, the Teamsters secretly propositioned the ILA on setting up a new national labor organization.

Prominent in this scheme was James Hoffa, indicted Detroit Teamster mogul.

Note: Backstage negotiations are underway for the return of ILA to the AFL-CIO.

Poles apart — Two diametrically opposite accounts are now officially on record as to whether the U. S. did or did not know in advance about the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt.

Secretary Dulles says flatly no. Admiral Arleigh Burke, Chief of Naval Operations, says yes.

These opposing accounts are in the hands of the Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee studying Middle East policies. Headed by Senator J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.), this powerful Subcommittee intends to interrogate Dulles and Burke on their widely differing versions.

They made them before different congressional committees. Dulles told his story, which was widely reported, before the full Foreign Relations Committee. Burke's startling varying testimony was before a House Appropriations Subcommittee— which has turned it over to Senator Fulbright.

Outside of these committees, this extraordinary information is not known.

It was brought to light by questioning by Representative Harry Sheppard (D., Calif.), ranking committee member. He bluntly asked Admiral Burke about Navy and Marine Corps operations in the Middle East.

"Several months before the Israeli jumped off," replied the Chief of Naval Operations, "it looked like it was going to be tight out there, so we ordered the Sixth Fleet with two attack carriers to the Eastern Mediterranean. . . . Previously we had sent a battalion of Marines to join this fleet. . . . I think the Israeli jumped off on October 29. We sent a warning to the Fleet to stand by for any action."

"Did you send that prior to the jump-off or after it?" inquired Sheppard.

To this key question, Burke made the following significant answer, "We sent it prior to the jump-off."

After a pause, he continued, "The first duty of the commander of the Sixth Fleet was to evacuate American citizens from Egypt and the other Arab countries. The commander sent a task force of amphibious shipping into Alexandria, and a smaller task force into Haifa and Beirut. In all, 3,000 American citizens were evacuated from Egypt and elsewhere, most of them from Egypt."

Sheppard pointed out this was moving very fast and presumed prior knowledge and logistic preparations.

"That is right," declared Burke.

"Can you tell us about these matters?" continued Sheppard.

"This should be off the record," advised Burke—and that is where his significant disclosures end.

It is possible to report that the Navy began its logistic buildup in the Middle East in the spring of 1956 on the basis of intelligence that fighting would break out there.

Admiral Burke also told the Appropriations Subcommittee that Secretary Dulles did not consult the Navy when he issued his "freedom of passage" statement about the Gulf of Aqaba. Burke, a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, knew nothing about this explosive policy declaration until he read it in the papers.

Stroudsburg Council Sets Salary For Borough Manager

Permission Granted For Storm Sewer

SALARY of Stroudsburg Borough Manager Harold Snyder last night was formally fixed at $6,000 annually.

This action was taken at a brief regular meeting of the Borough Council as it adopted an ordinance fixing Snyder's salary.

In other action, Borough Engineer Edward C. Hess was requested to lay out a storm sewer on Grove St. near the residence of James A. Somers to eliminate bad drainage at the location. Estimated cost of the project was set at $600.

Permission was granted to Sheldon Newell to cut the curb on Huston Avenue for construction of a driveway at his new home.

Playground Personnel

On recommendation of the borough manager, council hired the following playground personnel for the 1957 season: Samuel O. Wells, director, $60 weekly; Thomas Metzger, Melba Smith, Paul Lin, Suzanne Somers, Patricia Pappas, and Douglas Shook, all $40 a week.

Snyder reported that he and Herman Reese of the State Health Department, recently investigated the discharge of industrial wastes from a borough storm sewer on S. Tenth St.

Street department forces dug up the existing line to repair leaking joints and then extended two storm sewers in Pocono Creek to clear gravel banks formed by the Department of Forests and Waters while clearing the channel of Pocono Creek, Snyder added.

Snyder further reported: 1—Installation of a new sludge pump at the sewage treatment works has been completed with the cooperation of Water Department Manager William Curnow.

2—Final settling tanks at the sewage treatment works have been drained, cleaned and painted.

3—Snyder and Assistant Sewer Plant Operator Kresge are attending Penn State's sewage works operators course at Oquonk Center in Philadelphia Friday of each week from April 5 to May 10.

Atom Tests Cause Deaths

CHICAGO, May 1 (AP)—A Nobel Prize-winning scientist estimated today that 10,000 persons are dead or dying of leukemia around the world because of the atomic or hydrogen bomb tests carried out to date.

Dr. Linus Pauling, a chemist at the California Institute of Technology, said if Great Britain carries out her scheduled H-bomb tests on Christmas Island in the Pacific, another 1,000 will die of leukemia.

"For both political and humanitarian reasons, I am strongly in favor of an international agreement among the United States, Russia and Great Britain to stop testing nuclear explosives now," he said in an interview.

Pauling said, however, that the damage caused by radioactive fallout of tests to date is only about 1 per cent of that caused by cosmic rays which bombard the earth from outer space.

"The nuclear tests won't change the nature of the human race," he said.

Army To Replace M-1 With T-44

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—The Army disclosed today it will replace the Garand M-1 rifle, in use for 21 years, with a new weapon dubbed the T-44.

The new rifle, it said, will not only replace the M-1 which was this country's World War II standard but also three other shoulder-fired weapons—the Browning automatic rifle, or BAR; the .30 caliber carbine, and the M-3 sub-machine gun.

Contract Awarded For Main Phase Of Bear Creek Dam

PHILADELPHIA—Nello L. Teer Co., Durham, N.C., has been awarded a contract for the main construction phase of the Bear Creek Dam it was learned last night.

The contract, awarded by the Philadelphia District Office of U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, was listed at $6,304,462.70. Work is scheduled to begin on June 1.

The dam is located on the Lehigh River, near White Haven.

The Teer bid, $2,000,000 lower than the engineers' estimate, was the lowest of seven on the project.

Lower Levels

The dam, which will lower flood levels along the Lehigh River basin, will be located near the Carbon-Luzerne County line below the confluence of the Lehigh and Bear Creeks.

It will be the largest earth-fill dam east of the Mississippi River.

Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, Pennsylvania secretary of forests and waters, announced last year his department will develop a large-scale recreation program around the lake to be created.

Conceding that the primary purpose of the dam is to prevent heavy losses in life and property damage along the lower reaches of the river, Dr. Goddard said "it would be tragic if we didn't take advantage of the lake facilities to provide public swimming, boating, fishing and park facilities."

Date
The flood control project was conceived in 1936, but its progress through federal channels was slow. It was given budgetary approval in 1940 but because of World War II no funds were appropriated.

Last year, Congress voted the necessary money, largely because of the damage inflicted on Eastern Pennsylvania by the August floods of 1955.

Ground was broken on April 26, 1956. After land-clearing operations were completed, a 1,150 foot outlet tunnel, 19 feet in diameter, was built. It will permit engineers to regulate the reservoir level after the dam is completed.

Nearly two million dollars were spent in preliminary work. The dam's total cost is estimated at some 18 million dollars.

The Teer contract provides for construction of the main embankment, completion of the outlet works and relocation of some roads.

Completion of this phase of the project is expected in about 3½ years. Additional contracts will provide for minor facilities such as a dam tender's dwelling, an electric power line installation and other incidentals.

Engineers estimate the dam will reduce flood levels in the Lehigh at Allentown by 3.2 feet and in other river communities by 3-6 feet.

Oils Surge Ahead On Stock Market

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—Oils surged ahead strongly today, pacing the stock market as a whole to a fair-sized recovery movement.

Aside from the oils, there was little in the way of strong group activity. Aluminum staged some good advances. Steels, after a lackadaisical performance early in the session, made small gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 30 cents to $180.90 with the industrials up 40 cents, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities up 20 cents to a new 1957 high.

Issues
Of 1,165 issues traded, advances outnumbered declines by 486 to 421. There were 66 new 1957 highs as against 26 new lows.

Volume totaled 2,310,000 shares, an improvement over yesterday's 2,200,000 when the market sagged slightly.

Bethlehem Steel was the most active stock, up ½ at 46½ on 52,100 shares.

Rails, aircrafts, coppers and mail orders showed slight price changes.

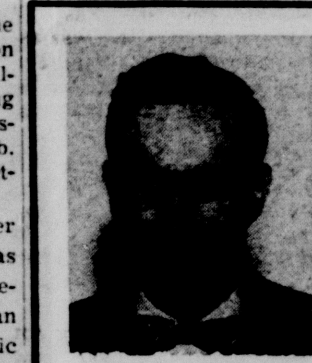

The American Stock Exchange was irregular on volume of 830,000 shares compared with 760,000 yesterday. Corporate bonds were higher on balance. U. S. Government bonds rose in moderate dealings over the counter.

Burke Loses Legal Round

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—Elmer (Trigger) Burke today lost another round in his fight to escape the electric chair for a murder conviction. The U.S. Court of Appeals affirmed a lower court decision denying a motion for a review or a new trial.

Burke, 39, was convicted in December, 1955, in General Sessions Court for the 1952 slaying of Edward (Bossy) Walsh in a Manhattan bar. Burke contended his Constitutional rights were violated during his trial.

He was originally scheduled for electrocution Jan. 23, 1956 but has received several stays while making appeals to several courts.

President Of Scranton Local Blasts 'Thieves'

SCRANTON, May 1 (AP)—The president of a Scranton local of the United Automobile Workers Union told the 600 members today in an open letter that "thieves" in the labor movement should be "exposed and indicted."

But Stanley Price, president of Local 18, asserted that "for every thief and unscrupulous scoundrel in the labor movement, there are hundreds of honest, dedicated men and women."

Price said his local should not be "fearful of any investigation" and vowed that if any probe ever were launched none of its members would resort to the Fifth Amendment to keep back testimony.

Cause Named For Wreck

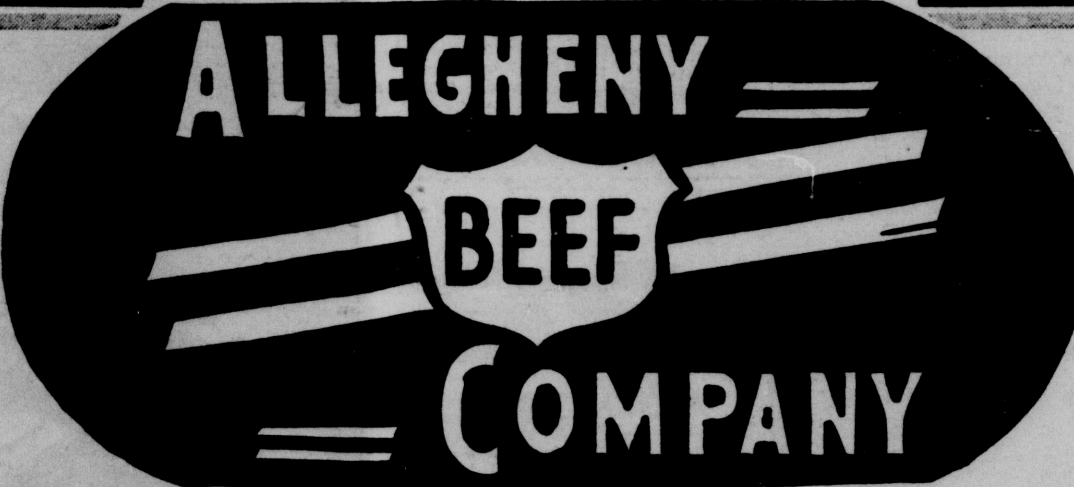

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission said today human error and failure of an automatic train-stopping device combined to produce a passenger-freight train collision Feb. 28 at Ripley, N. Y., 21 miles outside of Erie, Pa.

The passenger train engineer was killed and one passenger was injured when the two trains sidwiped in a crossover switch in an area of highly mechanized traffic controls operated from Erie.

Warns Of Cutbacks

HARRISBURG, May 1 (AP)—The president of the state Fish Commission warned today that unless the Legislature authorizes a "substantial" increase in fishing license fees there will be "harmful cutbacks" in the state program.

Hasty decisions are made that later lead to a lifetime of regret. When selecting your memorial see the Stroudsburg Granite Co.

Bangor Joint School Committee Hires New Teacher, Grants Leaves To Three Instructors

BANGOR—Mrs. Charles Davis of Messinger St., last night was elected as a home economics teacher in the high school.

Mrs. Davis is the former Miss Doris Archibald, a former teacher in the school. She will replace Miss Harriet Connors, who resigned.

Supt. Donald B. Keat informed the joint school committee that he has secured three candidates for the position of junior high industrial arts teacher to succeed Edwin Miller who resigned. Miller has accepted a position on Long Island.

Dr. James Brusie, chairman of the education committee, reported he has been in contact with Solicitor Edmund Turtzo relative to the dismissal of a high school teacher.

Brusie said the attorney had informed him that sufficient grounds are present to justify the board's contemplated action. Brusie said Sterling C. Schmyrer, a biology instructor, is the teacher involved. He has been affiliated with the school system for 34 years.

The board agreed it would follow the policy of retaining any teacher who would normally retire at the end of the present year. This would permit them to secure Social Security benefits.

Twenty representatives of the high school student body attended the meeting in keeping with the policy of allowing the students who will serve as officials for a day.

Donald Creighton, president of the Bangor Joint school system, and a resident of Lower Mount Bethel Township, was in charge of the meeting.

The board approved the trip of Miss Mae Eschenbach to Europe, and agreed to permit her leave the day before the current school term ends.

They also granted Granville Evans three-days early leave so he can attend UCLA's Summer session. He is one of 25 chemistry teachers throughout the U. S. who have been granted scholarships to take the study.

Miss Marie Engler, school nurse, was granted early leave to attend East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

In separate board actions, they voted to urge the Legislature to pass the $31-million school subsidy grant.

The board granted a $400 subsidy for the athletic association and approved the purchase of $1,200 worth of football equipment for next year.

It was reported by Quintus La-Bar, chairman of the athletic committee, that the Bangor Area school was one of 14 in the state having football injury coverage in 1956.

Upon request of John W. Sabatine, elementary supervisor, the following elementary trips were approved: First grade to George Ott's farm; Third grade to Pocono Wild Animal Farm; Fourth grade to Philadelphia.

Five Subpenas Issued For Red Hearings

BALTIMORE, May 1 (AP)—Five more subpoenas were issued today, bringing to "approximately 30" the number of witnesses summoned to a congressional hearing next week on Communist infiltration into the Baltimore industry.

Congressional rules prohibit disclosing the identities of any persons who have been ordered to testify.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), chairman of the full House committee, will preside. Sitting with him will be Reps. Edwin E. Ellis (D-La.) and Scherer (R-Ohio).

Walter said the purpose of the hearings is to inquire into the extent, if any, of Communist penetration of industry in the Baltimore area and to obtain information on the current organization of the Communist party.

State FTA Meeting Opens Tomorrow

EAST Stroudsburg State Teachers College will be host to the annual State Convention of the Future Farmers of America tomorrow and Saturday of this week. Five hundred delegates and faculty sponsors have registered for the three speakers meetings and the nine workshop sessions.

Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president of the college, will welcome the delegates in the auditorium at 2 p.m.

Kermit Stover, president of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn., of which the FTA is an affiliate, will extend greetings of the parent organization. He represents 69,000 teachers in the state of Pennsylvania.

Professor Don McGarry of the School of Education, Penn. State University, will deliver the keynote address. He is expected to comment on the profession of teaching, and preparation of our young people for this profession.

There are approximately 300 high school clubs of Future Teachers, and in addition, nearly 50 college organizations, the membership in all such groups totaling nearly 9,000.

State President

Walter Bjorn, ESSTC student, is president of the State Future Teachers. He will preside at the business sessions. The students conduct caucuses and elections just as do their older counterparts in society. The local chapter is placing two members in candidacy for state officers. Jack Saunders has been president of the local club during the past year. Dr. John R. Wildrick has been the coordinating faculty sponsor, assisted by Perry Bean, Dr. Isabel Nagel, and Dr. Dawson Lemly. Dr. Nathan G. Meyer was the founding sponsor of the local club 12 years ago. Through the efforts of the sponsors and about 40 members, the many details involved in housing, registering, entertainment, business and programs have been carefully developed.

Tomorrow the annual banquet will be held in the college dining hall. At this meeting, the convention will be honored by the attendance of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Charles H. Boehm. Following the dinner, there will be a dance in the college gymnasium.

Council Elects New Officers

KUNKLETOWN — The annual meeting of the Church Council of the Brodheadville-Hamilton Charge was held Sunday night at the Chestnut Hill Inn. There were 44 members in attendance.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Rev. Adan A. Bohner; vice-president, Frank Schick; secretary-treasurer, Leon Nicholas.

The Brodheadville-Hamilton charge includes St. Matthew's Church, Kunkletown; Mt. Eaton Church, Hamilton; and Zion Church at Brodheadville.

Sports Car Film Highlights Stroudsburg Kiwanis Meeting

A FILM SHOWING highlights of the sports car endurance contest at Sebring, Fla., was presented yesterday at the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Detteff A. Hansen, program chairman, introduced Alan Keiper, vice president of the Pocono Mountains Sports Car Assn., Inc., who thanked J. S. Swartley, a local oil distributor, for procuring the film.

Keiper also called attention to the sports car hill climb to be held at Fox Gap on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. He invited club members to witness the contest, which will be run against time.

Project
Parke W. Kunkle, boys' and girls' work committee chairman, reported that Capt. Charles Baker had been appointed coordinator of organization and extension for Boy Scout activities, a project being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. William Gorton will serve as coordinator of the Explorer Scout program.

Other members of the scout committee are Jerome Elwell, D. A. Hansen, William H. Clark, Dr. N. G. Meyer, Clement R. Price, Darrell Gehris, Henry Tucker, Daniel G. Warner, John R. Lesoine and Daniel Miller.

Kunkle said a new troop was being formed in Brodheadville with a Kiwanian serving as liaison officer. He also reported a district Boy Scout meeting will be held next Monday at 8 p.m. in the Clearview School.

Elwood Hintze presided after an absence of two weeks, part of which was spent in Florida.

Rough Spots
This final phase of surfacing will reportedly smooth out all rough spots.

The finish coat will be applied by Herbert Imbt, Inc., State College, who also constructed the bridges.

Two of the spans are located on Route 611 and the third on Route 12.

Explosion Claims Life
PITTSBURGH, May 1 (AP) — A tremendous gas explosion at the sprawling coke plant of U. S. Steel Corp.'s nearby Clairton works today killed at least one workman and injured approximately 21 others.

The workman killed was identified as Leo Scott, 37, of nearby Bethel Borough, a mobile crane operator for the Wilpette Coke Oven Division of Allied Chemical & Dye Co.

Fire touched off by the blast sent flames shooting as high as 200 feet. Dense clouds of smoke

Monroe-Pike Carpenters Sign Contract

SOME 100 members of Monroe-Pike Local 501, Carpenters and Joiners Union have entered into a new one-year agreement with local contractors. It was disclosed last night.

Business Agent Gerald Heckman reported that the new pact provides for $2.60 hourly for house work, and $2.85 for commercial jobs. The latter figure represents a 25 cent boost.

Minor Adjustments
Heckman said there were also some "minor adjustments" in the new contract, which will expire next April 30.

Meanwhile, Lehigh Valley carpenters went on strike yesterday. Negotiators for the Lehigh Valley District Council were standing pat

Wilson Views Missile Firing

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) —

Secretary of Defense Wilson was declared today to have witnessed the first successful firing of a completed military ballistic missile—the Army-developed Jupiter. Pentagon said that a Jupiter, the Army's entry in the 1,500-mile range missile competition, was the weapon that he saw launched successfully last weekend in Florida.

Upon his return yesterday from the missile center on Florida's east coast, Wilson said he had seen a successful missile launching but he avoided specific identification of the weapon, saying that maybe he had "talked too much already."

The Pentagon sources for the report that a Jupiter missile had been sent up last Friday, said that it had fallen short of the full range of 1,500 miles.

25 Defendants To Appear In Court

TWENTY-FIVE defendants are scheduled to appear before President Judge Fred W. Davis in Monroe County Court next Monday to enter pleas on a variety of charges.

Most serious of the cases to come before Judge Davis are those of Raymond Joseph Barry, 34, of Philadelphia, and Donald Leo Cullinan, 29, Lyons, N.Y. Both are charged with involuntary manslaughter as a result of separate highway accidents.

Barry was the driver of a Greyhound bus which plowed head-on into a car on Route 115 near Blakeslee last January 29. Five students of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College were killed.

Cullinan was operator of a tractor-trailer which crashed into the rear of a cinderling truck on Route 611 near Tobyhanna on February 1. Earvin A. Neipert, 61, of Tobyhanna, a member of the cinderling crew, was killed instantly. Two other persons were injured.

Charges

Charged with burglary are Franklin L. Strunk, East Stroudsburg; Glenn Fick, R.D. 1, Stroudsburg; George A. Robey, Jr., Hellertown; Ray Wolfe, Lyons, N.Y.; Edward H. Bartron, Jr., Stroudsburg, four counts; Bruce Hoover, Stroudsburg, four counts; A. Lewis Williams, R.D. 3, East Stroudsburg, five counts.

Other cases follow: H. Clifford Steffans, Mount Pocono, assault and battery; Henry Willis, East Stroudsburg, fornication and bastardy; Mary and John Stasa, East Stroudsburg, liquor law violations; Joseph Anson, Plymouth, Pa., larceny of an automobile, and operating without the consent of the owner.

Also, Eva Hinkel, East Stroudsburg, assault and battery; Robert Doll, Readers, aggravated assault and battery; Michael Sopack, Pocono Summit, threatening to kill; Arthur D. and Hilda Singer, Stroudsburg, liquor law violations; Glenwood Repsher, Stroudsburg, larceny and forgery.

Also, Foster Ladlee, East Stroudsburg, driving under influence; Marshall L. Neipert, Stroudsburg, driving while license under suspension; Horace H. Moore, Philadelphia, forgery and five counts of passing worthless checks; Adam F. Gondella, Scranton, driving under the influence; and Thomas Braithwaite, Jr., Philadelphia, larceny of an automobile.

Canadian Students

OTTAWA, May 1 (AP)—Canada's National Employment Service has invited 1,000 Canadian students studying at U. S. universities to register with the employment service if they intend to work in Canada. PTA To Urge Action On Assessment

Members of the Smithfield Parent-Teachers Association were urged to press the issue of increased property assessment at their meeting held on Tuesday night at the school in Minisink Hills.

At the invitation of the PTA, Charles Stagg, Smithfield assessor, was present for the meeting. He said that he personally has had no direct order to date from the County Commissioners to increase the township's assessed valuations up to the proposed 33 1/2 per cent.

The PTA, considering the low assessment as a major stumbling block to the proposed building program, has gone on record as approving a temporary increase until the tax equalization program is completed.

The meeting was the final one for the year. New officers elected included: president, Russell Scott; vice president, Morgan Hebard; secretary, Ione Midgough; treasurer, Joseph Lyons.

The retiring president, Hal Hamlen, presided at the business session.

He was given a round of applause in recognition of his service to the organization. Joseph Lyons, treasurer reported a balance of $502 in the PTA treasury. Approximately $280 was realized at the recent PTA ham supper held at the Marshall's Creek firehouse, Mrs. Carlyle Huffman, co-chairman reported.

Mrs. T. E. Terrill announced that the hot lunch program for the year will end May 3. A dishwasher, purchased by the PTA, will be installed in the school kitchen ready for use for the coming school year.

The membership went on record as endorsing Mrs. Earl Bryant as candidate for the office of state vice president and instructed the secretary to write a letter of recommendation to the chairman of the nominating committee.

Mrs. David Mazer reported on the training session of the Northeast District PTA to be held at the Clark Summit Avington High School on May 11. She offered car space to any who are interested in going to the all-day meeting. Morning workshops will be followed by a lunch and a talk by Dr. Clara Cockerell on "Effect of Consolidation on PTA".

Attendance award of $5 was given to Mrs. Alice White's fifth grade.

The program, arranged by Mrs. Wanda Huffman, featured slides of the Pocono Mountains contributed by Richard MacDonald and Norman Huffman. Refreshments were served.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Last night made me homesick for a time that never was and a place that never existed, except in memory. With Mrs. Harold Edwards and Mrs. Frank LaBar I helped judge rooms in the girls dormitory at the college, and the sight and sound and talcum powder smell of a dormitory in the Springtime made me homesick.

In case you're puzzled about why me on such a distinguished panel, I've figured out that they needed a balance wheel: a poor housekeeper who admires other people's neatness out of all reason and a middling arranger who can appreciate how cleverly other people solve problems that are to her unanswerable.

However, I wasn't worrying about why, just enjoying the experience and marveling at what girls can do with limited space, awkward angles and lots of ingenuity. And listening to the laughter, and looking at the dance programs, and dreaming of the time when I, too, dwelt in Arcady.

Which in reality was never. There was always the press of term papers, the threat of coming finals, the uncertainty about what you were going to do with your life, fretting about past mistakes and worrying about future dates.

Memory is a wonderful thing, however, erasing all the worry and tension and leaving only happy hours, steeping in the scent of wisteria and the sound of serenades, and warm with friendship. Guess maybe I wouldn't go back if I could. No sense trading perfect memories for a reality that can never be perfect.

Announce Wedding Of Shirley Messinger In University Of Virginia Chapel

Bangor—Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Messinger of Richmond Avenue, Bangor, announce the marriage of their daughter, Shirley Ann Messinger to John Williams Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wallace of Tazewell, Va., on Friday, April 19 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at Charlottesville, Virginia.

Rev. Nathan C. Byrd performed the ceremony in the Chapel, University of Virginia, amid palms, lighted candelabras, and vases of white pom-poms. A white satin kneeling pillow was placed at the altar and a white tracking was placed down the center aisle by the ushers before the bride entered. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown was of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin, fashioned with a portrait neckline and fitted bodice. Her long sleeves extended into points-over-hands. The bouffant skirt had a band of Chantilly lace and extended to a sweep train. The fingertip veil was of imported illusion attached to tulle and lace pillbox adorned with ropes of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book with white orchids and white satin streamers with stephanotis.

Miss Virginia Rodgers of Arlington, Va., served as maid of honor. She was attired in a dress of white organdy, scoop neckline with wide cummerbund of two-tone green taffeta and butterfly sash. Her accessories were in matching tones. She carried an arm bouquet of white shasta daisies with a green satin ribbon, matching her butterfly sash.

Earl Wallace was the best man and Stanley Wallace and George Wallace, all of Tazewell, Va., served as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a gown of white lace over pink taffeta with matching accessories and a flowered picture hat. She wore an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom mother's gown was of powder blue lace over taffeta with matching accessories. She wore a yellow corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at Thomas Jefferson Inn in Charlottesville. Later in the day the couple left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., returning April 24. On April 25 the bridegroom left for service with the United States Army.

The bride is a graduate of Bangor High School. She attended Mary Washington College for two years and is currently studying to be a nurse at the University of Virginia Hospital School of Nursing in Charlottesville. She is a member of the Kappa Delta sorority.

The bridegroom, who graduated from Tazewell High School, received his B.S. degree in Commerce this past June at the University of Virginia. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Before leaving for the U. S. Army he was attending training school with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company with whom he became affiliated after graduating from college.

Among the Bangorians attending the wedding were: the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Messinger; Miss Hilda Messinger, Mrs. Anna Messinger, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Messinger, Miss Elaine Messinger, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Imperio.

Others attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clark and children, Sandra and Richard of Dallas, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Alan Ryder and son Larry of Portsmouth, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Focht and daughter Linda of Reading; Mr. and Mrs. John Stuebe of Nazareth RD; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wallace, Miss Patricia Wallace, James Alexander, George Wallace and J. mp Kadets veil New iforms

MP KADETS, of the George Compton American Legion Post, night unveiled flashy, new red and white uniforms, signed especially for the local and bugle corps, the new uniforms will cost close to $2,000. Expenses are being absorbed by the corps through its own treasury.

Purchase of the new uniforms is another step in the rejuvenation of the corps, according to ident Roy Compton. During past Winter, he said, the Kadets not only added to their play-members, but trained an all-color guard and added a completely new group of musical selections to their repertoire.

A specially trained group of uniformly all-girl batonners will also take to the streets with the Kadets in their parade of the year on Memorial Day.

Consideration according to Compton, the post is also considering the additional purchase of all new snare and bass drums, plus several bugles. Compton said the Kadets expect one of their busiest schedules this Summer. Approximately 50 marching members participate in special events throughout this state, New Jersey and New York.

The Kadets will represent the Stroudsburg Fire Department in the Four-County Firemen's convention at Lehighton this Summer. Compton gave credit for much of the corps' large-scale improvement to Harry A. Mullins, the Kadets' new "master musician." Mullins returned to the corps last winter after serving as an instructor for the U. S. Marine Drum and Bugle Corps.

He has been teaching the Kadets musical selections and last night special drilling instruction is begun.

The corps meets twice a week, Monday and Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m. at the Legion Home in East Stroudsburg. Compton said a few vacancies in the snare drum and bugle sections still exist, and the corps will be glad to honor all new applications.

Bangor Board Names Speer Secretary

BANGOR — Reimer Speer was reelected secretary of the Bangor Board of Education for a four-year term here last night. However, since Speer will reach 70 years of age within two years, it is expected he will retire within the two-year period.

David Stoddard was reelected treasurer of the board.

The board authorized the borrowing of up to $35,000 to complete the present school term, pending receipt of state appropriations.

Plans were made to attend the annual meeting of the school directors of Northampton County at the Bushkill Township School May 17.

Bangor delegates to the session will be Merle Mabius, vice president who presided at last night's meeting; Kenneth Ace, Marvin DePamphilis, and Superintendent of Schools Donald B. Keat.

Bills totalling $26,383.62 were approved for payment.

Bucs Swap Long, Walls For Cubs' Baker, Fondy

Straight Player Transaction Between 7th, 8th Spot Clubs

PITTSBURGH, May 1 (AP)—First baseman Dale Long, the toast of Pittsburgh last spring when he broke home run records, today was traded with outfielder Lee Walls to the Chicago Cubs for first baseman Dee Fondy and infielder Gene Baker.

The straight player deal between the seventh-place Pirates and the last place Cubs was announced in Brooklyn and Pittsburgh after each club had lost today.

Pirate Manager Bobby Bragan said, "The big man in the deal for us was Baker."

Charley Grimm, Chicago vice-president, said Walls gave the Cubs "a pretty good hitter, able to play centerfield," and that Long could furnish first base power.

At Short Stop

Bragan said he would use the 31-year old Baker at shortstop and would move Dick Groat to third. Frank Thomas and Fondy, he added, will alternate at first but Thomas also would be used in the outfield.

With Baker gone, Chicago Manager Bob Scheffing said he would shift shortstop Ernie Banks to third and would try rookie Ed Winceniak at shortstop. Winceniak came to the Cubs from St. Paul where he hit .273 in the American Assn. last year.

Getting Boos

Long, who set a major league record last season by homering in eight consecutive games, has failed to hit a home run this year. He is hitting .182 and has been the target of boos from Pittsburgh fans. His major league average is .271. He batted .263 last year, after being up above .400 in May. He wound up with 27 homers and 9 runs batted in.

Walls, 24, 6-3, 205-pounder, came up last year and hit .262 for Pittsburgh.

.267 Mark

Baker, 31, has a .250 mark this season with 11-for-44. He came up to the Cubs in 1953 and has a .267 major league batting mark. Fondy, 32, has been with the Cubs since 1951 and has a .285 lifetime average. He collected three hits against the Dodgers today to boost his 1957 mark to .311 on 16 hits in 51 at bats.

Long, a lefty standing 6-4 and weighing 212, had been with Bragan at Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League before both moved up to Pirates.

"I hate to leave Bragan after these many years," said Long, "but that's baseball. Then, too, the Pittsburgh fans were getting on my back."

Buccos Need Only Hits

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH, April 29 (AP)—Brash Bobby Bragan discouraged? His Pittsburgh Pirates discouraged? Not in the least echo the sophomore manager and his players.

The Pirates returned to the comfortable confines of Forbes Field last week for an extended 16-game stand talking like champions rather than a last-place ball club.

"There's nothing wrong with us that a few base hits won't cure," said Bragan shifting a wad of tobacco in his mouth. "All we need is batting practice. We didn't get it on the road."

Bragan made no mention of Bill Rigney but it was evident he's still somewhat disturbed over refusal of the New York Giant manager to allow the Pirates batting practice at the Polo Grounds.

Bragan called for an off-day workout. Among the early arrivals were second-sacker Billy Mazeroski, third baseman Frank Thomas and first baseman Dale

Pin Classic Opens Today At Barrett

MOUNTAINHOME—The greatest bowling jackpot in the history of Monroe County gets under way today at the Barrett Bowling Center.

An estimated $48,000 in prize money will be up for grabs when thousands of pin topplers from all over the United States start vying for the actual and handicap $4,000 top prize.

Hundreds of other cash awards in both actual and handicap side of the Pocono-Slate Belt Bowling Tournament are open starting today and running through June 30. Kicking off today's inaugural will be Lou Campi, the Garden State kegger who has beaten the best bowlers before television audiences weekly.

Also on the celebrity agenda is Charles (Chuck) Bednarik, Penn. great All-America center who later attained greater heights as pivot-man for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Professional Football League.

Lou Erb, Lehigh Valley bowling expert, will be master of ceremonies on the opening. Bowlers who will kick off the tournament today are from the Barrett area.

New Javelin Sidearm Style Is Ruled Out

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—The controversial sidearm style of throwing the javelin, introduced by Miguel Salcedo of Puerto Rico, was ruled out of Saturday's Metropolitan Interscholastic track and field meet today.

Members of the committee, meeting informally before today's track writers luncheon, decided to ban the doubtful style until a ruling could be obtained from the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

"The general opinion is that there is nothing illegal about the throw as made, but we feel we must seek an interpretation from the NCAA Track and Field Rules Committee," said Asa Bushnell, committee chairman. "Obviously we won't have one before Saturday, so the Metropolitan Assn. representatives here decided not to use the unorthodox style Saturday."

Pivoting Delivery

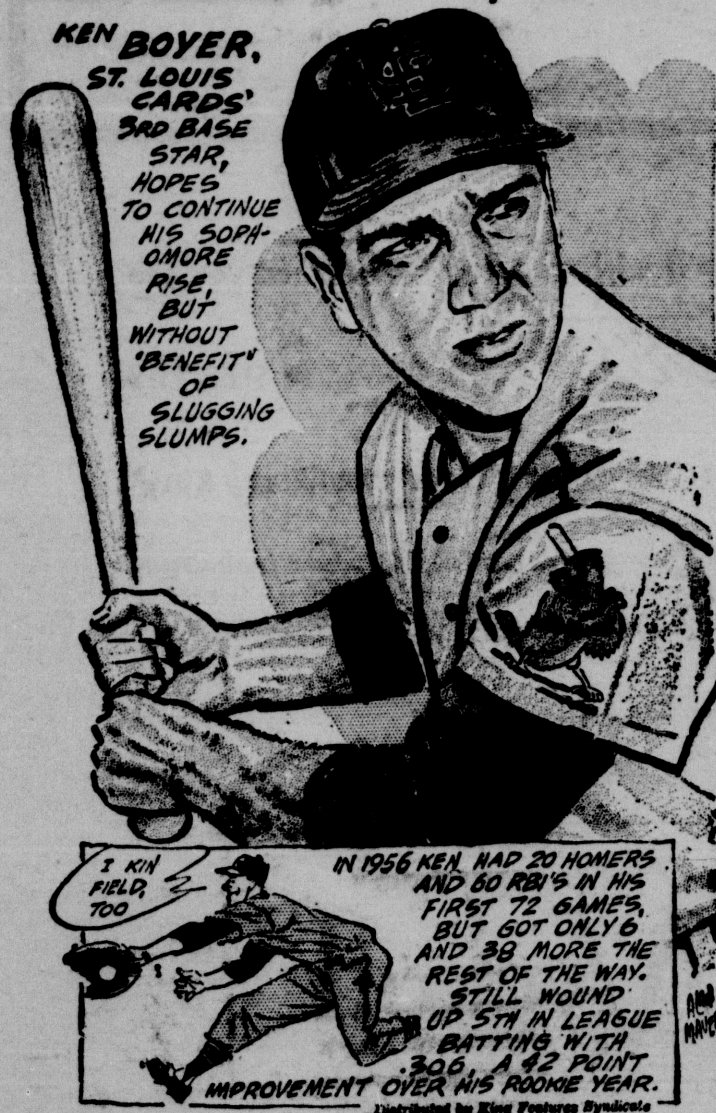

Salcedo's style is a pivoting sidearm delivery in which the javelin is allowed to slip through the thrower's hand as he releases it. Salcedo uses water to make the shaft slip through his hand easily.

The style was adapted from the Spanish style delivery, in which the thrower spins around several times like a discus thrower before releasing the spear. This was ruled illegal last year.

Long. The Pirate skipper also was in uniform early. His field assistant George Sisler, who was named by the Pirate management to help with the batting this year, also was there.

The sun beamed on the playing field. Even Bragan beamed at the crack of the bat sending balls against the score board in left field and into the rightfield stands.

Gutowski setting new outdoor record.

Warmerdam in action.

AS ANOTHER TRACK RECORD WAS UPPED TO NEW HEIGHTS—A goal of 16 feet in the pole vault now has the immediate attention of Bob Gutowski, 22-year-old Occidental college senior, who set a new world outdoor mark at Palo Alto, Calif., when he soared over the bar at 15 feet, 8 1/2 inches. This broke Cornelius Warmerdam's mark which stood since 1942. Warmerdam, however, still holds the world indoor mark, which is 15 feet 8 1/2 inches, set in Chicago in March, 1943, shown above.

'Oldtimer' Gives Data On Spitball

KANSAS CITY, May 1 (AP)—What is the lowdown on all this hullabaloo about the spitball, we asked the retired major league pitcher, one of the craftiest of his time.

How extensively is the pitch used? How effective is it and how difficult to throw? And if it is used extensively, how is it hidden from the prying eyes of four umpires, some 30 opposing ballplayers and crowds of up to 50,000 or more?

The not-so-oldtimer chuckled. "You would get me into a lot of trouble if I told you all that and the guys who do it," he said. "The ball players know all about it but the fans don't. I guess they are entitled to know. They pay the freight. So if you won't tell them my name I'll try to tell you about it."

Identifies Pitch

"In the first place, few fans now know what the pitch is. A splitter doesn't spin much because you put a blob of saliva on your fingers where you grip the ball. It is thrown like a fast ball but the lack of spin throws it off course as it approaches the batter and it shoots or sails sharply to one side or the other."

"It is much quicker than a knuckler, another non-spinning pitch that is pretty tough, too."

"You don't need to drown the ball to get a splitter to break. Just a little blob the size of a kitchen match head under each of the first two fingers will do the job. And I've even done it with sweat off my wrist."

15 or 20 Using

"There are 15 or 20 pitchers that I know who are using the splitter more or less right now in the majors. All this hubbub about Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves is a little comical. I'm not saying Burdette throws a splitter. But if he does, those fidgety monkey-shines he goes through have nothing to do with it. That is all a bunch of psychology. And I think that is what made Birdie Tebbets so mad. (Tebbet, manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, accused Burdette of throwing a spitball and doing it brazenly under the very eyes of the umpires.)"

The former hurler would like to see the pitch legalized. It is a little difficult to learn control of the pitch but easy to handle once you get the knack, he says. He reasons the pitch is going to be used anyway and making it legal would be "the first good turn they have done for the pitchers in more than 15 years."

Bushkill Nine To Drill Today

BUSHKILL—The Bushkill baseball team will hold a practice session today at the home field, starting at 5:30 p. m.

Managers Harold Litts and Harold Strunk request that all players report.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, MAY 2, 1957
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Mixed vibrations. Some excellent and stimulating rays from the Sun, Mercury and Venus; some unfriendly ones from Jupiter and Saturn. Economy of time and money urged, do not push ahead in sound matters.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—A day for emphasizing all your fine assets, your instantly visible and genial disposition. Hard work, difficult problems to solve? Don't worry. Mental agility is encouraged; can help you in many ways.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—A stimulating day, holding much promise for those with ambitious leanings, those who apply themselves steadily, with vigor and forethought. Be conscientious, cooperative.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Your Moon today breathes less thought of self and a quickened interest in matters for the general good. Study, acquiring knowledge, making improvements, fulfillment of difficult assignments under good rays.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Your Sun auspicious, also Venus. Day augurs well for personal attainment, gain through persons in authority, government officials; also for written matters. Care stressed in finances.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Head Gemini now. Don't overdo or strain to achieve more than is reasonable but do get the most from your talents and opportunities. Improve the quality of output; use all assets well.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—More than usual caution needed in expenditures, in making changes. But all business and work matters can proceed profitably if handled sanely.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—You have many advantages in your favor—mostly your intelligence, ambition and courage. These, with hard work, stick-to-itiveness and patience you can make your mark now.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Self-restraint and steady application to duty should counteract some unfriendly influences. Good deeds pay; don't fail to do your share.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn)—There are fewer restrictions than you may anticipate. You can cope with the hardest work or most trying situation if you remain calm, unharried, and patient. Some fine prospects.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius)—You may be able to add new and improved twists to undertakings that need them; make improvements generally. A grand time for personal acquisition through work.

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces)—You can profit by heeding Sagittarius and Aquarius now. Relegate worry and doubt to the waste basket as you proceed with your duties. Blatant tasks cheerfully, determinedly.

March 24 to April 23 (Aries)—You have great courage, are decisive, constructive, determined to achieve. Self-tendency toward stubbornness, self-will, overindulgence in rich foods, strong beverages, pleasures.

Basilio To Fight On Coast Tour

CHICAGO, May 1 (AP)—Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio will open a month-long fighting tour at Medford, Ore., May 6.

His co-manager, Joe Netro, said the West Coast tour will include some non-title bouts which will be televised. The bouts are tentatively scheduled for Portland, May 15, and San Francisco, May 27. No opponents were named.

Basilio is slated to meet the winner of tonight's middleweight title fight between champion Gene Fullmer and challenger Ray Robinson at New York's Yankee Stadium sometime in July for the middleweight championship.

Harwi Tops 40-Driver Field In Nazareth Races Sunday

DESPITE A GRAND turnout of hotshots from stock car tracks in New York and New Jersey, Easton's Otto Harwi last Saturday roared to victory in the Opening Day feature event at the Nazareth Fairgrounds.

Harwi, and 40 other drivers from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, will be back this coming Sunday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, for the resumption of independent competition on Nazareth's famed half-mile dustless speedway.

The quiet, almost shy Harwi, winner of championships in 1955 and 1956, drives for the Harold Cope Stables, Easton.

Top Foes

His top competition is expected from Ray Brown and Dan Mitchell, Middletown, N. Y.; George Gallup, Oneonta, N. Y.; Blackie Reider, Ken Wismer and Harry Charles, all of Easton, and a raft of Jersey stars including Art Scott, Joey Cryan, Carl Van Horn and Eddie Riker.

Nazareth will again have almost 70 laps of fast racing, with three 10-lap heats, a 12-lap consolation, and the hard-bitten 25-lap feature race.

Good Times

The track, which has been overhauled, is producing excellent times. Harwi, for instance, was clocked on one particular lap at 28 seconds, and the New York and New Jersey speeders were just a fraction behind.

Both modified and sportsman cars will be in the events with the usual guaranteed purse. Drivers shaken up last week—Blackie Reider, Ed Gishel, Ray Brown and George Sleight—are ready to resume the races this week. Their cars were damaged in spectacular pile-ups.

Charles Breslin, ex-big car chauffeur, is the new flagman at the Nazareth track.

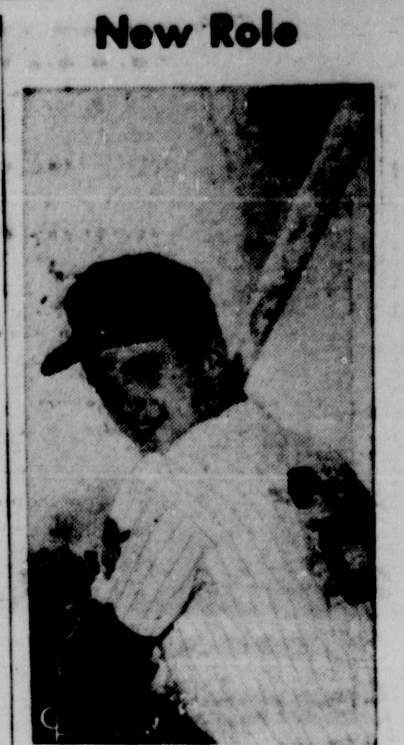

Wally Post, Cincinnati Redleg outfielder, hit nine home runs in his first 16 games in 1956. A hand injury on May 5 slowed him down. He finished the season with 40 homers.

BR Players To Aid 'Climb'

STROUDSBURG—Barrett Babe Ruth League players will assist in promoting the day's program of the Pocono Mountain Sports Car Association Hill Climb at "Sal's Crotch," Route 90, Saturday. BR officials announced last night.

Babe Ruth players will report dressed in uniform Saturday at 7 a. m. at the Stroudsburg YMCA building to take part in the day's activities.

BR aides urged that all players turn out at the "Y" at the designated time.

RATED the world's fastest man last year before an injury forced his withdrawal from the Olympic finals, Dave Sime of Duke has switched uniforms this spring and is concentrating on the diamond game. Dave, an outfielder, is hitting over .400. (International)

Stroudsburg High Graduate To Retire

DR. ROSCOE L. WEST, president of Trenton State Teachers College, has announced the retirement of Miss Vernetta F. Decker from the position of Director of Student Life at Trenton, New Jersey, State Teachers College, a position which she has held for 21 years.

Her previous experience had been in the public schools of Stroudsburg, Pa.; Summit, N. J., and as a teacher of Speech and English at Trenton State Teachers College.

As Director of Student Life, Miss Decker was responsible for organizing and administering a program of activities for students and counseling services on a college-wide basis. The undergraduate newspaper, "The State Signal," said of her, "She has done more than anyone else to establish a body of traditions that have been accepted and developed by students."

Honors

Miss Decker was graduated with honors from Stroudsburg High School and the two-year course at what was then East Stroudsburg State Normal School. She completed her undergraduate work at Columbia University from which she received the B.S. degree and later the M.A. degree in the field of Speech education. Further graduate work was in the Department of Counseling.

Miss Decker, who is well known in Monroe County as a reader and public speaker, is a daughter of former Postmaster and Mrs. John M. Decker, long-time residents of this area; and a sister of Mrs. Walter H. Dreher and Mrs. George W. Samsel of Stroudsburg. She will make her home in Stroudsburg and at Marshall's Creek, where she has a Summer cottage.

Boy Scouts To Conduct Paper Drive In Barrett On Saturday

CANADENSIS—Residents of Barrett Township who are engaged in house-cleaning were urged yesterday to cooperate in the paper drive to be conducted Saturday by Boy Scouts of Troop 89.

The all-day collection of old newspapers and magazines is being staged to raise money for the Scout Home. Householders are asked to put bundles of papers on their porches for collection by the troop. The following Saturday is the rain date.

Training

Cub master Robert Ziegler is going to begin a training program for the Scouts to be den chiefs of the Cub Scouts.

Last Saturday a group of the Scouts worked on their property in Pike County clearing ground for a road to be built. Harry Bender, Julius Krummell and John Krummell gave the land to the scouts and are also helping with equipment and labor to make the road. This weekend the boys and Scoutmaster Ben Varvel are going to move in and put up some huts they acquired from Tobyhanna.

South Africa Plan

JOHANNESBURG, May 1 (AP)—South Africa's Prime Minister, Johannes Strijdom, plans to halt play of "God Save the Queen" on state occasions, the Johannesburg Star reports. It says he will proclaim the Afrikaans song "Die Stem" as the country's national anthem.

Assault Planned On Mountain

JESSELTON, North Borneo, May 1 (AP)—Seven RAF men are planning an assault on North Borneo's 13,445-foot sacred Mt. Kinabalu about the middle of May.

They will approach the peak, highest in Southeast Asia, from the north side, never attempted before. Before beginning the climb the party will go through rites involving firing of shotguns and sacrificing fowl because of a legend Kinabalu is resting place of spirits of the dead.

MAKE POOR SOILS GOOD:

One of the most common questions we receive is: "What can I do to loosen up a heavy clay soil?" It's no fun gardening in a heavy soil, but such soils are not hopeless. A soil that's heavy, drains poorly, bakes in Summer needs building up and the best way to do this is to add organic matter (humus). Sawdust, woodshavings, compost, coffee grounds, etc. all should be added to a heavy soil. These are converted from raw organic matter into the dark brown jelly-like material we call humus. Humus is the backbone of soil fertility and crop production.

To date, nothing has been discovered that is superior on a cost basis, to organic matter, as a soil builder and conditioner. If your garden is full of clay, do not add sand to loosen it. Attempts to improve a clay soil with sand may result in a concrete-like mixture that's harder than the original clay. Limestone has a chemical effect on loosening a clay soil, many believe. This coagulates the fine particles into larger ones, allowing air and water to pass freely. Limestone does not have the same beneficial effect on sandy soils, as many believe.

Coal Ashes

We're strong believers in coal ashes (and wood ashes) for loosening up a heavy soil. Each year I dump stoker ashes on the garden and it does wonders in loosening up the heavy soil. I'd never use soft coal ashes.

Cover crops add organic matter to the soil. These "green manure" crops include clover, alfalfa, domestic rye grass and buckwheat. The best way to use them is to take half of your garden out of production and put the other half into vegetable crops. Sow half the garden to any one of the above "green manure" crops. I personally like domestic rye grass, as it makes a fine cover crop and soil builder due to its heavy root system and tops which add many tons of organic matter per acre. You can even sow the seed among growing plants of corn, tomatoes, squash, pumpkins, etc. during the Summer months. Since it's a cool weather grass, it makes most of its growth in late Fall after your crops are harvested.

Question Box

F. T. of Stroudsburg: "I have a small farm pond and each year it becomes coated with green scum. Is there a good chemical to spray on it to kill the unsightly scum?"

We note that in California a spring-fed farm pond has been successfully cleaned of algae (green scum) by spraying with a newly developed fungicide known as Phygon XL. The pond had a heavy coating of scum on and was made crystal-clear within a few days after spraying. Phygon XL is used as an algicide in lakes of Wisconsin where it is claimed to be 100 times more efficient than other algaecides (scum killers) in killing water weeds. It is also being used in ponds in New Jersey and in industrial areas of New England. We understand it has cleared water for swimming, fishing, boating and irrigation and so far the anti-algae chemical doesn't appear to harm stock of fish.

If you own a small garden pool you can control surface algae simply by spraying the pool's surface with Phygon XL powder, dissolved in water at the rate of 1 ounce per 250 sq. ft. of surface area of the pool.

The Missouri Botanical Gardens use copper sulfate and Permanganate of Potash. Mr. George H. Pring, in charge of the pools, uses 1/8 grain of permanganate of potash to each gallon of water. This is roughly about a teaspoonful of a saturated solution to each gallon of water. You can figure the number of gallons of water in your pool by multiplying the inside length, by the breadth, by the depth of water, and converting to cubic feet. Then multiply the answer by 7 1/2, the number of gallons in a cubic foot.

If you use copper sulfate, remember it is toxic to some fish, although goldfish will stand a 1 to 500 solution (1/2 tablespoon per gallon of water).

Bangor High Teachers To Be Honored

BANGOR—George O. Ott Sr., teacher of vocational agriculture of the Bangor Area Joint High School, will be honored again Sunday at 4:30 p.m. by the American Legion 40 at 8, Voiture 697 of Northampton County at the Hellertown American Legion Home. He will be given a legion citation for service to the community.

The community dinner will honor four other Northampton County persons for similar service to the local area. Ott has been cited on numerous other occasions. Most recently he received the Golden Deeds Award from the Bangor Exchange Club for his service to the school, the community and the youth of the area. Last year the National Future Farmers of America presented him with the honorary degree of American Farmer, the highest award granted to any farmer. He was one of 25 teachers of vocational agriculture in the nation picked for this award. The award was made at the national convention held in Kansas City, Mo.

Others

Others to receive the award are: Ralph Werkheiser, of Easton; Miss Ruth Leh, of Nazareth; Clayton Bernhardt, of Bethlehem, and Herbert Cless, also of Bethlehem.

The committee in charge is composed of John H. Cericola, of Hellertown; Ira A. Clemens, of Wind Gap; Reuben Davidson, of Nazareth; Israel Frankel, of Bethlehem, and Donald W. McPherson, of Hellertown.

"CAN'T I PLAY POKER, DEARY?"—One of the office card players says this scene reminds him of the times he tries to get a night out. Actually, these characters are Redy Kilowatt, a baby chimp, and a stuffed lion's head at a farm in Danis, Fla. Redy's mother nearly electrocuted herself once. That's how he got his name.

HONORED FIGURE—Mario Moreno, Mexican movie star Canindia, proudly shows off a figurine of himself presented by employees of Pan American Union. He's in Washington as guest of Mexican embassy.

MIDGET-TYPE MOTORBOAT—Jenny Meredith rides a fiberglass water scooter that's slightly under seven feet in length and nearly four feet wide. Scooter, demonstrated in London, has automatic clutch that works when throttle is opened.

TWO FUNNY FELLOWS—Paul, a sawed-off clown with the Sarraani circus, makes friends with a baby zebra at Offenbach, Germany. The zebra, born in the circus stables, is called Maya von Lilientempel by the clowns.

HISTORY LIVED HERE—More history has revolved about this corner of England than probably any other. At right are battlements of the Tower of London and in the foreground, spanning the Thames, is the Tower bridge. The Tower was originally a royal palace and stronghold, but is now better known as a prison.

MYSTERIOUS RUINS

ONE OF THE MOST mystifying ruins in all the world lies 17 miles southeast of Fort Victoria, in Southern Rhodesia. The Zimbabwe ruins are in an amphitheater of granite-domed hills. A century of investigation has so far failed to discover who built them and for what purpose. The ruins were discovered by a hunter, Adam Renders, in 1868. The earliest interpretation of the ruins described them as "remotely ancient" and they have been dated as far back as 3,000 years. The ruins mark the former habitations of a large population, which must have occupied them for hundreds of years. From the abundance of worked gold in various forms, it is evident that Zimbabwe was intimately connected with the gold-mining industry. At any rate, Zimbabwe adds mystery to the lure of Africa.

This is another view of the ruins, which were known to Portuguese explorers.

Tourlet (center) is dwarfed by well in the old ruins.

Evangeline Parker

Tobyhanna Township High Announces Leading Students

EVANGELINE PARKER was selected as valedictorian and Margaret Sziracky as salutatorian at Tobyhanna Township High School, it was announced yesterday by C. Willis Dunlap, principal.

Miss Parker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Orval Parker. She was born in Nebraska, but has spent most of her school life in New Jersey and Pennsylvania schools. Miss Parker's father is employed by the U. S. Government as an electronic engineer and at present is stationed at Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

The valedictorian of the graduating class has attended TTHS for two years. She has been president of her junior and senior class and has taken part in the junior and senior class plays. She is a member of the dancing club and has been reporter for the Tohito, school paper. Miss Parker plans to attend commercial school.

Pocono Summit

Miss Sziracky is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sziracky, Pocono Summit. Her father operates a bake shop.

She was born in the Bronx, N. Y., but attended Bayside Elementary and Bayside High School for 11 years. She has completed the Academic course and will attend Marywood College in September, where she plans to major in Biology.

Miss Sziracky has been active in the dancing club and the senior class play. She won a recent award for achieving the highest

Week Set Aside For Posture

"ALWAYS maintain correct posture!" That's the advice being emphasized here this week in a community-wide correct posture campaign directed at people of all age groups.

Schools, churches, and other civic organizations were invited by Dr. John A. Sweeney, Jr., of the Pennsylvania Chiropractic Society, to join the chiropractic profession in the observance of this year's "Correct Posture Week," May 1 through May 7.

Posters and posture charts for school use have been distributed by the local chiropractic group. Additional free copies are available and may be obtained from Dr. Sweeney by calling 3693.

Bangor Area Girl Named 'Miss Milkmaid'

JANICE E. LaBar, 21-year-old daughter of a Bangor RD 1 dairy farmer, was crowned Miss Milkmaid at the Lehigh-Northampton area at Allentown on Tuesday.

Miss LaBar, a receptionist for a Bangor business firm, was crowned by Donald V. Hock, Allentown mayor.

Miss LaBar, runnerup in the same contest last year, will compete in the state finals May 16-17 at Bedford Springs.

"All I can say is that I'm very, very happy and I thank all of you very much," Miss LaBar told representatives from the three sponsoring organizations, the Lehigh-Northampton Milk Dealers, Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers and the Lehigh Wholesale Grocers Assn.

Runners in this year's contest was Debra Hance, 18, of Pleasant Valley. The other two contestants were Janice Haas, Breinigsville RD 1, and Louise Leiberman, Pen Argyl.

Judges were Jack Adams, general manager of Lehigh Wholesale Grocery Assn.; Robert Stimmel, coordinator of distributive school, and Sinclair W. Chiles, assistant principal of Liberty High School.

Bethlehem. James Wood, president of the Lehigh-Northampton Milk Dealers, of Woodson Dairy in Red Hill, introduced Rudolph Yohonic of Suncrest Farms, Butztown, who was master of ceremonies.

Miss LaBar received among her awards a $25 U. S. Savings Bond, a cash gift from the Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers, her tiara from Lehigh Wholesale Grocers Assn.
